

Mindful Intercultural Communication

Do you want to communicate successfully in intercultural contexts and be prepared for international collaborations?

Do you want to become aware of how our cultural backgrounds influence the way we think, act and communicate? And you want to use your communication in a more targeted way? Take part in our online training "Mindful Intercultural Communication"!

In multiple synchronous and asynchronous sessions

- we will introduce you to the concepts of communication and culture
- practice communication techniques with you
- use many practical case studies to show how cultural and communicative misunderstandings can be avoided
- and consolidate your acquired knowledge in practical training sequences.

After your successful participation, you will receive a digital badge that you can add to your CV and applications as proof of your acquired intercultural skills.

We look forward to meeting you!

Conscious Communication

Elisabeth Ahner-Tudball and Dr. des. Simone Kraiss